Winter Camp, the largest camp of the year is coming

Friday February 28th is the start of N.A.S.K.A.'s Winter Camp. The Camp goes through Sunday March 2nd and will be held at the Surf Side Inn in Virginia Beach. Winter Camp is a fantastic training opportunity. This is the largest camp held by our karate association. Instructors from all over the USA, Canada, and Bermuda will be coming. Special Guest instructors will teach special sessions. I strongly encourage all of you to try and attend this camp! This camp covers a lot of material for all belt ranks. This is a good camp to attend whether you are a white belt or a black belt. If you can only attend one N.A.S.K.A. Camp this year, then Winter Camp is the best camp to attend. The camp fee covers training, hotel room for 2 nights, and four meals. This is the camp to attend! See Sensei Scott for more information.

Our children's pledge states: We Love our Country! At this time, our love for our country, our patriotism is very important. Two of our own family are going over to the middle east, Sensei Ed Sullivan (Navy) and Josh Christenbury (Air Force). Keep Ed and Josh, as well as other service members, in your hearts, thoughts, and prayers as they serve our Contry. We wish them well, a safe trip, and a speedy return.

Dojo T-Shirts: An order will be placed this month for Dojo T-Shirts that can be worn in class in place of the Gi top. These T-Shirts have the Shorinkan, Naska, and the Dojo patch on them. TOURNAMENT INFO

Tournament Class: 1 PM Saturday

Pushing the Bubble

It was near the end of class. Sensei was running a hard class. Very little rest, just enough time to keep the gi on. Sensei was working basics today and the class was doing a lot of repetitions. Everyone was sweating, everyone was tired. Sensei kept pushing. He wanted more kicks. "Higher and stronger! Good 4 count kicks" Sensei shouted over the class's kiai. Sensei kept class working right up to the time to bow the next class in.

After saying the pledge, one of the students asked Sensei a question: "Sensei, why did we do so much basics? We know how to kick, punch, and block. Why did we do so much Sensei?"

Sensei answered, "I was pushing your bubble. That means I was working you hard to see how far I could make you go. I wanted to push you to your limits to see if you were willing to take the next step and go beyond your limits. Anyone can do karate and look good when they are rested and fresh. What matters, is how is their karate when they are tired, sore, injured, or at some disadvantage."

"Most people start slacking when they get tired or sore. They stop giving their best and try to get by with the bare minimum that they think will do. As students of Karate-Do, myself included, we strive to keep giving our best until we can't give anything else. When we get tired, we should focus on technique, give proper chambers on the kicks, sit down in the stances, and give proper speed and power on every technique."

"When I tell you to get your kicks up, or to get stronger or faster, I'm not being heartless and cruel. I'm making you push yourselves harder and more than you would do just by yourselves."

"I call your limits your bubble. I'm making you reach beyond your limits. Reaching beyond your limits is called Pushing Your Bubble. You grow when you reach beyond your limits. Over time you will learn to push your own limits and realize that there is so much more that you can do."

"As Sensei it is my duty to train you to be the best Black Belts that you can be. It is your duty as my students to train to the best of your ability. And, I will help you train to the best of your ability."
